LOCAL ITEMS. FATAL ACCIDENT.

A Miner Palls Eighty Feet in the Ray-mond & Ely. Yesterday afternoon, about 3 o'clock, Daniel Moriarty was working with severrl others on a ladder in a winze from the fifth level of the Raymond & Ely mine. They were putting up some boards to keep waste from falling down, and Moriarty was standing on a piece of lumber eighteen inches in width. It is supposed that he reached back, and above his head, to obtain something in which he was in want, when he suddenly lost his balance and fell to the bottom of the winze, an almost perpendicular depth of eighty feet. So sudden and undepth of eighty feet. So sudden and un-expected was his fall that the workmen above and telow him, could hardly be-lieve that it had happened. His fellow-workmen immediately went to him, but they found the man who had been chat-ting gaily with them but a minute before a corpse. His skull was broken up very badly, and the inside of his head seemed badly, and the inside of his head seemed to be almost a perfect jelly. Portions of the brains had been dashed out, and were clinging to the hair.

He had lately been complaining of feeling somswhat ill. It is conjectured that something might have come over over him, depriving him of all power of action, as he was considered a very active man usually, and was fearless of danger in any place in which he might be put to work.

Daniel Moriarty was a native of county Rerry, Ireland, where relatives of his are supposed to reside at present. He was about 35 years of age, and during his life had lived in Australia. A married brother now resides in St. Louis, Mis-Souri.

Deceased was an intelligent man, a good workman, and much liked by his companions in the mine, who deeply deplore his loss. The funeral will take place at 4 o'clock this afternoon.

"MUSIC HATH CHARMS"-AND TERnons.-On Wednesday evening, a musician wended his way down Meadow Valley street, carrying affectionately on his shoulder, a huge base-viol. Silently he passed along amidst the noisy crowd, and ever and anon looked back over the unburdened shoulder to see that his precious load was in no danger of strikprecious load was in no danger of strik-ing anything. Finally he became ab-sorbed in thoughts of the sweet sounds soon to be brought from the poetic cat-gut. He was musing on the effects which the sound of its strings, when touched by a master hand, would have; and be audibly murmured to himself Music hath charms to sooth the savage breast.

when snap crack crash down came the fiddle, and the disciple of Apollo on top of it. As he picked up an armful of true fiddled-sticks he made a few remarks. An unappreciative and unfeel-ing wretch dared to laugh. A ghostly fiddle came to his bed-side last night, and the dread-inspiring music of the "Melanchojy" from a full orchestra sounded all the weary night in the ears of the terror-stricken youth. He now NEWS OF AN OLD NEVADA MINER. -

Some weeks since we took leave of our valued friend, W. H. Clark, who was then leaving Pioche to seek some other location. Mr. C. is an old-time miner of Nevada: he was for a long time foreman Nevada; he was for a long time foreman of the Raymond & Ely mine, and subsequently Superintendent of the Hermes mine. The following paragraph, clipped from the Owyhee Avalanche, will inform his many friends in Pioche that he has cast anchor at Silver City, Idaho. "W. H. Clark, formerly engaged in mining operations here, arrived from San Francisco by last Wednesday's stage, and will take charge of the Golden Chariot mine, in place of C. H. Johnson, resigned in place of C. H. Johnson, resigned. Since leaving here some two or three years ago, Mr. Clark has taken unto himwith him.

Ladies' Fair. Last night the Ladies Fair was carried on with continued success. Two new features appeared. One of these was a miniature fancy table, kept by the "little ones." who seemed to be cooking-range, in which heat is supplied by gasoline. A tea-kettle on this range was boiling nicely. To-day, from 11 o'clock in the morning, until 3 in the afternoon, the Fair will be opened. in order that those who work at night may have an opportunity of patronizing

Our attention has been called to another instance of the way a story gets twisted by the time it travels a few hundred miles. So far (with some departments to hear from) the employes in the Belcher mine have contributed for the relief of the widows and orphans made so by the late Yellow Jacket fire, the princely sum of $1,441. We understand that it is the desire of these large-hearted and openhanded men that their contributions should be divided between the widow and orphans of Louizelle, the Belcher blacksmith killed in the Jacket, and those of James Niles, one of the miners killed in the Crown Point.
